DUTIES & LEGISLATION

Local Authorities are required under section 68 of the Education and Skills Act (2008) and latterly part 3 of the Children & Families Act (2014) to secure suitable education and training provision for all young people in their area aged 16-19 (or up to the age of 25 for people with an active Education Health and Care Plan EHCP).

Raising of the Participation Age (RPA), also introduced in the Education & Skills Act (2008), outlined expectations that by 2015 all 16 and 17 year olds in England would be required to remain in education or training until at least their 18th birthday. Additional responsibilities were placed upon Local Authorities to identify and track young people in their area covered by RPA, whilst also enabling and encouraging those not meeting the duty to participate (e.g. those that are not engaged in education, employment or training - NEETs).

As such, Local Authorities are required to collect information about all young people so that those who are not participating (NEETs) can be identified and offered support to re-engage. This is supported by Section 72 of the Education and Skills Act (2008) which requires educational institutions (including academies) to provide relevant information about pupils to Local Authorities to enable them to carry out their statutory duties.

North East Lincolnshire Council's Young People's Support Services (YPSS) undertake the statutory duties outlined above. The information contained within this report is a snapshot of destination data collected annually on 1st November. Information is gathered from education and training providers, young people and their families and is correct as of when the data snapshot is taken. Information provided within this report is confidential to individual Academies.

In 2013 Gatsby commissioned Sir John Holman to research what pragmatic actions could improve careers guidance in England and subsequently developed the Good Career Guidance Benchmarks (known as the 8 Gatsby Benchmarks).

In December 2017 the Department for Education (DfE) published Careers Strategy: Making the Most of Everyone's Skills & Talents. The strategy and associated implementation plan seeks to improve the current careers 'offer' as part of its plan, to increase social mobility and offer opportunity to everyone.

In January 2018 the DfE published its updated statutory guidance 'Careers guidance and access for education and training providers', which expands on aims set out in the original strategy. The statutory guidance applies to Local Authority maintained schools, community schools, foundation/voluntary schools, community or foundation special schools, academies, free schools and Pupil Referral Units (PRUs) and outlines an expectation for schools and colleges to embed the Gatsby benchmarks into careers provision as a means of enhancing their offer.
