Germany, 1890-1945 (HT1 - Germany and the growth of democracy)

Basic knowledge;

- Germany became a country in 1871 after they beat the French in a short war (1870-71).
- They had a Chancellor (Prime Minister) and a parliament (Reichstag).
- The Kaiser (King) could overrule the Reichstag and made ALL the decisions about the army, navy and agreements with other countries = Too much power for one man!
- The new Kaiser on 1888 (Wilhelm II) wanted to make Germany a very powerful country as powerful as Britain (with huge industries too), so Germany industrialised so by 1913 Germany was producing more iron and steel than Britain, and dominated the European market in terms of electrical goods and chemicals.
- Wealth increased amongst the landowners and business people, but not amongst workers so they created trade unions and believed that power and wealth should be more equal across Germany (This is called Socialism). This was a threat to Kaiser Wilhelm's power.
- The German government trying prevent a workers' revolution brought in state education and pensions for older workers, and promised Germans more wealth, power and a big empire.

Kaiser Wilhelm II;

In 1888, Wilhelm's father succeeded as Frederick III. He died shortly afterwards, making Wilhelm Kaiser at the age of 29. He was a strong believer in increasing the strength of the German armed forces, particularly the navy. His policies towards Britain were contradictory. He alienated Britain with his naval expansion (Naval Race) and a policy of aggressive German colonial expansion (Weltpolitik – ‘A place in the sun’), and also supported the Boers in their fight against the British. But he was also closely related to the British royal family and was particularly fond of his grandmother, Queen Victoria.

The Social Democratic Party (SPD);

- Wilhelm II did not have complete power as Germany had an elected Reichstag, which was needed to pass legislation (laws). Wilhelm could however, dismiss the Reichstag (which he often did), but the elections were freely held so he could not directly influence the vote.
- The growth of socialism and the Social Democratic Party (SPD) was particularly concerning for the Kaiser. The SPD frequently voted against the legislation the Kaiser wanted. The socialists thought that wealth should be shared equally between everyone in society. The idea became more popular in Germany in the 1900s and by 1912 the SPD was the biggest party in the Reichstag!

Causes of World War One

- Wilhelm pursued a policy that he wanted to make Germany powerful and well respected by other nations. This was called Wilhelm's Weltpolitik (world politics).
- Germany formed an alliance (remember these from Year 9!) with Austria-Hungary in 1882. There ended up being two alliances Triple Entente (Britain, France and Russia) and the Triple Alliance (Germany, Austria-Hungary and the Triple Alliance Russia).
- This led to a build-up of armies and navies. Germany brought in its Navy Laws which meant that the Kaiser ordered Admiral Tirpitz to enlarge the German navy to rival the British navy (then the best and biggest in the world).
- A new super-warship was created called the 'Dreadnought'.

This table shows you how quickly both countries were building their navies.

Why did the Germans hate the Treaty of Versailles?

Land
- Alsace-Lorraine returned to France
- West Prussia and Posen (Polish Corridor) lost to Poland
- Saarland taken over by the League of Nations for 15 years
- Germany’s colonies were handed over to the League of Nations, who gave them to Britain and France to run

Army
- Air force was disbanded
- Army limited to 100,000 soldiers
- Navy limited to 15,000 sailors, six battleships and no submarines
- Rhineland occupied by the Allies for 15 years
- No German troops allowed in this area

Money
- As Germany was held responsible for the war, the allies could claim reparations for the damage caused
- In 1921 a special commission fixed a sum of £6,600m to be paid in annual instalments
- The Treaty also took away 10% of Germany’s industry and 15% of its agricultural land

Blame
- Article 231 of the Treaty stated that Germany was to blame for causing the war.

Key articles
1-26: The Covenant of the League of Nations - Germany was not allowed to join.
42: The Rhineland was demilitarised - the German army was not allowed to go there.
45: The Saar, with its rich coalfields, given to France for 15 years.
51: Alsace-Lorraine returned to France.
80: Germany forbidden to unite with Austria.
87: Lands in eastern Germany - the rich farmlands of Posen and the Polish corridor between Germany and East Prussia - given to Poland.
100: Danzig made a free city under League of Nations control.
119: All Germany’s colonies taken and given to France and Britain as ‘satisfaction’.
140: The German army restricted to 100,000 men.
181: The German navy restricted to six battleships and no submarines.
198: Germany not allowed to have an air force.
231: Germany was responsible for causing all the loss and damage caused by the war.
232: Germany would have to pay reparations, to be decided later - eventually set at 132 billion gold marks.

Challenges from the left:
Who were the Spartacists? - Left-wing revolutionaries who wanted to get rid of Kaiser. They wanted a social revolution like the Russian Revolution (1917).
Reasons for failure of Spartacist Uprising (1919): They were poorly organised and the Spartacists failed to capture many buildings in Berlin. They lacked support of other left-wing groups. The Government had support of the Frikorps. The Spartacist leaders were murdered.

Challenges from the right:
Who were the Freikorps? - Former soldiers in the German army. They were a right-wing, conservative organisation who hated the Treaty (1919)- many had been forced to leave the army. They helped President Ebert put down Spartacist Uprising (1919)
Reasons for failure of Kapp Putsch (1920): Putsch centred on Berlin - and didn’t spread to rest of Germany. The Weimar Government continued and was able to relocate to Dresden. The German people were tired of revolution - Spartacist Uprising occurred 1919. The workers went on strike which halted the putsch.

German outrage:
When the Germans heard about the Treaty of Versailles, they felt ‘pain and anger’. They felt it was unfair. It was a ‘Diktat’ an IMPOSED (DIKTAT) settlement. They had not been allowed to take part in the talks - they had just been told to sign.

Weimar Constitution
Strengths
- All Germans had equal rights, including the right to vote
- Proportional representation made sure parties had the same percentage of seats in parliament as they did in the election
- Provided a strong leader to keep control over the country in an emergency
- Each state had its own assembly to represent local interests

Weaknesses
- It was too radical an experiment given the volatile nature of German society
- PR encouraged lots of small parties so no one party ever had enough seats to form a majority government
- The president could use Article 48 to become a dictator
- Local states could resist the authority of central government

To Give an Example
(1) For example, (2) for instance, (3) in particular, particularly (e.g. particularly important, was...), (4) specifically (e.g. Hitler bombed St Paul’s Cathedral specifically to destroy British morale), (5) this is shown by (e.g. this is shown by the fact that...)

1923 – A Crisis year

Why was this a problem?
- Germany did not keep up with reparations
- January 1923, French and Belgian troops marched into the Ruhr - legal under the Treaty of Versailles.
- Factories & industrial production ground to a halt
- The Germans responded with passive resistance, but this made Germany even poorer

1923; Economic crisis
- Germany did not pay off the reparations bill until 2010.
- Repayment was interrupted by Hitler during his time in power, which delayed the final pay off to 1996. However, a clause in the agreement said that Germany would have to pay interest on the bill if Germany were ever to reunite, which of course did it did in 1990. So the final historic payment of £59m was made on Sunday, 3rd October 2012, ninety-two years after the war ended.

Words to include:
- Therefore...
- Consequently...
- Moreover...
- Additionally...
- In addition to this...

Fun fact:
- Germany did not keep up with reparations
- January 1923, French and Belgian troops marched into the Ruhr - legal under the Treaty of Versailles.
- Factories & industrial production ground to a halt
- The Germans responded with passive resistance, but this made Germany even poorer

Germany, 1890-1945 (HT1- Germany and the growth of democracy)

The Stresemann years (1923-1929)

General strengths

- Experienced politician - Chancellor, Foreign Minister
- Diplomat – Locarno Tr. (1925), League of nations (‘26), Young Plan (‘29)
- Gifted orator
- Nobel Peace Prize (1926)

International relations

- 1925, Locarno Treaty with GB, Fr., It. guaranteeing its frontiers
- 1926, Ger. joined League of Nations
- 1928, Kellogg-Briand Pact – ‘the solution of all disputes shall only be sought by peaceful means’

Domestic politics

- Stable govt. – Social Democrats formed a coalition supporting Weimar Republic
- Decline in support for extremists (NAZIs won 12 seats in 1928 Reichstag elections)

Economic recovery

- Rentenmark
- 1924, Dawes Plan – US lent 800 million marks
- 1925, French ended occupation of Ruhr
- 1929, Young Plan, reduced reparations 60%
- 1928, industrial production topped pre-war levels
- Construction – infrastructure, 3 million new homes

BUT – Unresolved problems

- American loans
- Depression in agriculture
- Extremism (NAZIs / Communists)
- 1925, Hindenburg elected President – opponent of Republic
- 1929, death of Stresemann
- 1929, Wall St. Crash

What can you tell about Weimar Germany from its culture?

Cultural flowering - The 'Roaring twenties'

The 1920s became in Germany a time of real cultural creativity, with developments in Architecture, Art, Books, Films and Cabaret.

Famous names of this period included:
- the Bauhaus school of architecture, founded by Walter Gropius.
- the artist Paul Klee
- the singer and film star Marlene Dietrich
- the artist Otto Dix (famous for his harsh paintings of World War One battle scenes).
- the novel Erich Maria Remarque, who wrote the anti-war novel All Quiet on the Western Front.

1) Germany’s capital Berlin became a centre for culture under the Weimar Republic.
2) There were advances in art, architecture, music and literature. German films were successful – e.g. ‘Metropolis’ directed by Fritz Lang.
3) Some developments were bold and new, like the drama of Bertolt Brecht. The Bauhaus School of design was highly influential.
4) The Weimar Republic encouraged new ways of critical thinking at places like Frankfurt University.
5) Not everyone approved of these cultural changes – the cabaret culture in Berlin was seen as immoral by some. The culture of the Weimar Republic didn’t survive under the Nazis...

It was nearly all okay...

The 1920s were a tough decade in Germany, but Stresemann seemed to have the problems sorted.

- Hitler fought in WW1 and was employed afterwards by the German Army as a propaganda agent. His job was to go to political meetings where a chance encounter with the German Workers Party (DAP) changed his life.
- Hitler joined the Party in 1925 and put together the 25 point programme with the leader Anton Drexler.
- The Party was renamed the National Socialist German Workers Party (Nazi) for short.
- By 1921 Hitler’s skills had led him to be made leader.
- The party became more aggressive with an emphasis on discipline and loyalty to the Leader.
- Hitler founded the Sturmbteilung (SA) – a brown-shirted paramilitary organisation
- The SA attracted ex-soldiers and members of the Freikorps who hated communists and wanted to intimidate them
- The swastika became the symbol of the Party

In Addition

(1) besides this (as well as this) (2) furthermore (also), (3) also, (4) as well as, (5) on top of this, (6) foremost (most important, e.g. the foremost reason for the outbreak of war was...), (7) firstly, secondly, thirdly, (8) firstly, lastly, finally, (9) likewise (in the same way).z

Key Words

Anti-Semitism - Hatred of the Jews.
Aryan - Nazi term for a non-Jewish German, for someone of supposedly ‘pure’ Germanic stock. Correctly used, the term Aryan means a member of the peoples who speak an Indo-European language.
Censorship - examination by authority (e.g. state) of books, newspapers, plays, broadcasts, films, etc. Also, the suppression of anything considered irreverent, obscene or against the state. Under the Kaiser, censorship had been strict; the Weimar government was liberal, allowing artists free expression; the Nazis censored every aspect of German life on a scale never known before.
Chancellor – in Germany, the chief minister in the government.
Constitution – the rules by which a state is governed.
Demobilise – to disband troops, particularly after a war.
Dictatorship - one-party state, governed by an absolute ruler; the opposite to democracy, where the people choose the government and opposing views are tolerated.
Elite – a select, privileged group.
Euthanasia - the bringing about of death to relieve suffering. The Nazis secretly carried out a policy of compulsory ‘euthanasia’, by cruel and in humane methods, to kill mentally and physically handicapped people.
Fuhrer – Leader; the title adopted by Adolf Hitler.
Genocide – deliberate extermination of a whole race or nation.
Gleichschaltung – co-ordination. The Nazis used the word for their policy of controlling all organisations, at every level of society.
Hyperinflation - rapidly accelerating inflation where prices rise ten or even a hundred-fold in a single month.
Kaiser – the German emperor.
Lebensraum - living space. The ‘need’ of the German people for living space was Hitler’s justification for his conquest of other countries.
Plebiscite - a vote by all the people on an important issue: for example, a change to the constitution.
Putch – sudden armed uprising, a political revolt.
Reich – the German empire.
Reichstag – the German Parliament.
Reparations compensation for war damage demanded by the Allied powers after Germany’s defeat in the First World War.
SA – Abbreviation for Sturm-Abteilung.
SS - Abbreviation for Schutz-Staffel, ‘protection squad’. Originally the private bodyguard for Hitler and other Nazi leaders, the SS later became the main instrument of terror in Nazi Germany.
Totalitarian - a state in which every aspect of people’s lives is controlled and monitored by those in power.
Volk – people; in particular, the German people.
Wall Street Crash - In 1929, share prices fell disastrously on the New York stock exchange (known as Wall Street from its location). It was followed by a worldwide economic collapse and the Depression of the 1930s.

How the Depression (1929) helped Nazis

- Economic policy
  - Weimar government unwilling to print more money or increase expenditure – memories of 1923!
  - Chancellor raised taxes and reduced unemployment benefit

- Presidential rule
  - Social Democrats withdrew from Weimar Government
  - Hindenburg used Article 48 to pass laws – not very democratic!
  - Hindenburg was keeping Weimar going – but he secretly hated the new republic and what it stood for!

Rise of extremism

- People become radicalised
- Communists blamed failure of capitalism
- Nazis blamed Weimar, Treaty of Versailles, Jews
- Violence – 500 killed during 1932 elections

Summary

Hitler’s rise to power was based upon long-term factors - resentment in the German people, the weakness of the Weimar system - which he exploited through propaganda (paid for by his rich, Communist-fearing backers), the terror of his stormtroopers, and the brilliance of his speeches. During the ‘roaring twenties’ Germans ignored this vicious little man with his programme of hatred. But when the Great Depression ruined their lives, they voted for him in increasing numbers. Needing support, and thinking he could control Hitler, President Hindenburg made the mistake in January 1933 of giving Hitler the post of Chancellor.

- Tradition of youth groups in Germany (Volk culture)
- Alternative youth groups closed
- From 1936 membership compulsory
- Well organised – different groups for different ages
- Hitler Youth, League of German Maidens
- 1939 – 8 million members!
- Range of activities – games, sports, physical education, parade, camping – all appealed to young people
- Children were brainwashed into loyalty to Führer
- Fed anti-Communist & anti-Semitic hatred
- Children believed they were helping the war effort

Opposition to youth groups

- Swing clubs – disrespectful to the Führer, e.g. ‘Heil Benny’
- Edelweiss Pirates – bullied members of the Hitler Youth
- Some youths sheltered deserters & escapees
- White Rose group – distributed Nazi propaganda

Role of women

- Didn’t work – women were encouraged or forced to leave their jobs, e.g. all women doctors sacked
- Good housewives – used leftovers, prepared ‘Eintopf’ meal
- Good mothers – healthy, promoted traditional family values, ‘Honour Cross of German Mothers’
- Dressed in traditional German clothes
- Brought up children to worship Führer

New Plan

- Dr Hjalmar Schacht
- President of Reichsbank
- Minister of the Economy
- Imports limited
- Trade agreements
- Unemployment reduced

Four-Year Plan

- Hermann Göring
- WWI fighter pilot
- Head of German airforce (Luftwaffe)
- Self-sufficiency
- Synthetic raw materials (ersatz)
- Reduce imports
- Tighten control on wages

Unemployment – how the Nazis dealt with the problem
- By 1939 unemployment had fallen to less than 0.5million
- After 1932, reparations ended
- Autobahn and public building projects, e.g. Olympic Stadium, Berlin
- Reich Labour Service (RAD) and conscription – 1m in army by 1939
- Government investment schemes, e.g. Volkswagen

Germany, 1890–1945 (HT3): The experiences of Germans under the Nazis

SS
- SS stands for Schultz-Staffel or ‘protection squad’
- Originally squad of 500 men forming Hitler’s personal bodyguard
- Developed into a force of 50,000 elite perfect specimens of Aryan men
- Ruthless & fiercely loyal to Hitler
- Helped crush Hitler in Night of Long Knives
- Distinct black uniform
- Unlimited power to arrest without trial, search or confiscate property
- Developed fighting sections, e.g. Waffen SS
- Ran concentration camps
- Originally Prussian secret service, run by Goering
- From June 1936, became state secret service run by Himmler
- Tapped phones, intercepted mail and conducted spying operations
- Used torture and surprise to extract confessions from suspects

Gestapo
- Nazis took control of existing system of courts
- Judges took an oath of loyalty to Hitler
- Courts displayed Nazi insignia, e.g. Swastika and eagle of the Third Reich
- Number of crimes punishable by death rose from 3 (1933) to 46 (1943), including listening to foreign radio or publishing anti-Govt leaflets

Police, the courts & prisons
- Nazi Party had a strong local structure
- Towns divided into local units called ‘Blocks’
- Block wardens visited each block to collect donations
- Block leaders wrote reports on residents, which could determine whether they got jobs or not

Informers
- Former Prussian chicken farmer
- Interested in German folklore
- Highly sensitive – could watch executions he ordered

Heinrich Himmler
- Former Prussian chicken farmer
- Interested in German folklore
- Highly sensitive – could watch executions he ordered

One of those thought responsible for Final Solution (1942) systematic execution of Jews
Nazi economy

Successes
- Small businesses – Nazis passed laws banning new department stores and stopping creation of new ones. Competing Jewish businesses were closed down. Value of trade double for tradesmen in this category between 1933 and 1937.
- Farmers – some farm debts were written off, all farmers benefited from increased food prices.
- Big business – benefited from rearmaments and destructions of trade union. Average salary of managers rose by 70% between 1934 and 1938.

Failures
- Small businesses - between 1936 and 1939 the no. of self-employed skilled craftsmen fell from 1,650,000 to 1,500,000.
- Farmers – resented Nazi meddling, every hen had to lay 65 eggs per year for example. Farmers suffered from shortage of labour as workers went to work in the cities and factories. 40% increase in income.
- Business – greater govt. intervention, e.g. over prices, wages, profits and imports. Govt also decided who should receive raw materials and forced some industries to produce certain goods for the war effort. 115% increase in earnings.
- Unskilled workers – wages often lower than unemployment benefit; working week increased from 43 to 47 hours (1939). 25% increase in wages.
- Reich Labour Service (RAD) – all men aged 18-25 had to do 6 months’ work service. Unpopular because it was hard manual labour and was used to indoctrinate young people like the Hitler Youth movement; only 10 days holiday a year.

Persecution

Reasons for anti-Semitism
- Anti-Semitism common in Europe for many centuries.
- Jews were associated with revolution and Communism.
- Suspicion over their wealth & power – Jews made 1% of German population but 17% of bankers were Jews.
- Religious intolerance.

Steps to Final Solution
- Boycotts, purges, labour camps
- Nuremberg Laws
- Kristallnacht
- Einsatzgruppen ('one sentence groups')
- Ghetto
- Mobile gas chambers
- Death camps

<td>Ordinary Germans resented intrusion by state, e.g. tactics of SA, propaganda, Block Warden collecting subs. People attended rallies because their jobs might depend on it but didn’t always endorse the views of the Nazi Anti-Nazi jokes was a safety valve, a way of expressing criticism or disapproval, but not openly. Case study of German doctor, known for ignoring what the Nazis were doing to Jews because it made it easier for him to gain patients for his practice. Many refused to join the party or to give the ‘Heil Hitler’ salute; some were executed for their resistance; banned political parties went underground (e.g. Social Democrats in exile, SOPADE); 1936 Gestapo broke up 1000 underground meetings 1937, Munich, House of German showed officially approved German art at same time as an exhibition of Weimar ‘degenerate art’, which attracted 5x as many visitors. Swing groups listened to banned American music, gave fake ‘Heil Benny’ salutes, girls wore make up and fashionable imported clothes. White Rose group distributed anti-Nazi propaganda; Navajos sheltered army deserters and RAF pilots; one group killed head of Cologne Gestapo. Reinhard Heydrich, Chief of Reich Security, assassinated by two specially trained Czech soldiers, 1942. Martin Niemoller and Dietrich Bonhoeffer, founders of the ‘Confessional Church’, Bonhoeffer who spoke out against Nazis and plotted in secret to overthrow Nazi State, eventually died in concentration camp on 8 April 1945; Bishop von Galen, Lion of Munster, led a campaign against the Nazis’ euthanasia programme ‘Aktion T4.’</td>
